

Curriculum Vitae (Hans-Josef Klauck)

Education:

- 1980: Habilitation (Dr. habil.), University of Munich, Munich, Germany
- 1977: Promotion (Dr. theol.), Bayrische Ludwig-Maximilians University of Munich, Germany
- 1973: Cura-Examen Pastoral Institute of the Franciscans and Capuchins at Münster, Germany
- 1972: M.A. (Theologisches Diplomexamen) University of Bonn, Bonn, Germany
- 1970-1972: Rheinische Friedrich-Wilhelm University of Bonn, Germany
- 1968-1970: Philosophisch-Theologische Hochschule of the Franciscans and Capuchins at Münster, Germany
- 1967-1968: Johannes-Duns-Skotus-Akademie at Mönchengladbach, Germany
- 1966: B.A. (Abitur) at the College Exaten, Baexem/L, Netherlands (humanistisches Gymnasium)

Ordination:

- 1972: Ordained as a Catholic priest by Bishop Heinrich Tenhumberg in Münster
- 1966: Joined the Franciscan order, noviciate in Rietberg and Warendorf, Germany

Academic Appointments:

- 2008: Dr. h.c. (University of Zurich)
- 2006: Appointed to the Naomi Shenstone Donnelley Professorship of New Testament and Early Christian Studies in the Divinity School of the University of Chicago
- 2001: Professor of New Testament and Early Christian Literature in the Divinity School of the University of Chicago; also in the Department of New Testament and Early Christian Literature in the Humanities Division
- 1999-2003: Honorary Professor of New Testament Exegesis at the Dutch Reformed Theological School of the University of Pretoria in South Africa

1997-2001: Professor of New Testament Exegesis at the Catholic-Theological School of the Bayrische Ludwig-Maximilians University in Munich (as successor of Joachim Gnilka)

1992: Position offered as Professor of New Testament Exegesis at the Catholic-Theological School of the Westfälische Wilhelms University at Münster (as successor of Karl Kertelge); not accepted

1982-1997: Professor of New Testament Exegesis at the Catholic Theological School of the Bayrische Julius-Maximilians-University in Würzburg (as successor of Rudolf Schnackenburg)

1981: Position offered as Professor of Catholic Theology at the Friedrich Alexander-University in Erlangen-Nürnberg; not accepted

1981-1982: Professor of “Introduction to the New Testament and History of New Testament Times” at the Catholic-Theological School of the Rheinische Friedrich-Wilhelm-University in Bonn

1981: Candidate for a tenured position on short lists at universities in Bielefeld, Bonn, Duisburg, and Erlangen-Nürnberg

1978-1981: Assistant Professor, Bayrische Ludwig-Maximilians University of Munich

Other Positions:

1975-1977: Research assistant at the Institute of Biblical Exegesis of the Bayerische Ludwig-Maximilians-University in Munich, with Prof. Dr. Joachim Gnilka

1972-1975: Pastoral work at the parish Sankt Pankratius in Buldern; at the same time starting specialized course work in Bible and Judaic Studies at the Westfälische Wilhelms University in Münster